

Project1 Output Format

- Syntactically Correct Program

Use indentation (2 spaces) to represent tree level

Project1 Output Format

- Syntactically Correct Program

For nonterminals, print “NAME (Lineno)”

Specifier (2)

(If the nonterminal involves multiple lines, print the number of the first line)

Project1 Output Format

- Syntactically Correct Program

For INT/FLOAT/CHAR terminals, print “NAME: attribute”

INT: 1

(For a hex-int, output its decimal form; For a hex-char, output its hex-form)

Project1 Output Format

- Syntactically Correct Program

For ID terminals, print “ID: identifier”

ID: my_struct

Project1 Output Format

- Syntactically Correct Program

For TYPE terminals, print “TYPE: type”

TYPE: int

Project1 Output Format

- Syntactically Correct Program

For other terminals, print “NAME”

SEMI

Project1 Output Format

- Lexical Error

Print the error type, with a meaningful message

Error type A at Line #: (msg)

(We will only check the type and lineno)

Project1 Output Format

- Syntax Error

Print the error type, with a meaningful message

```
Error type B at Line #: (msg)
```

(We will only check the type)